Pastoral Reflections

Our scripture of this weekend is about “ownership”; owning what we do and being responsible for our actions. In our culture of today, most folks always seem to be able to find someone else or some other institution to be responsible. We only claim ownership if we are successful and famous. We do not get concerned at all about being responsible and decent people on a daily basis.

In our Old Testament reading, we learn that Amos is distraught about the complacent irresponsibility and indifference of both the wealthy and affluent. The prophet issues a warning to the rich of their imminent catastrophe and possible sudden reversal in fortune. Ironically all the excessive gifts in which they have wallowed in unrestrained style will become the means of their end. They are all about “me” which will place them far down the road to doom and alienation

The Gospel story has two locations: this world and the next. The start of the story is here and now, and then the story ends in the hereafter. Notice that the main character’s positions are flipped at the end. In the end, Lazarus does not stay outside at the gate for he is now in the bosom of Abraham. The rich man who had been at a great banquet table is at the end outside yearning for anything that would help him. This is all quite the reversal.

The intent of both the first reading and the Gospel reading is to wake us up to life. We are to recognize by this scripture that the end times are coming for each one of us at some point and we need to live lives of responsibility and faith.

Do you wonder why was the rich man punished so severely? Why is this wonderful and hospitable Abraham all of a sudden so strict? The Gospel does not tell us that the rich man was responsible for Abraham’s poverty and suffering, or in fact that he even knew Abraham was suffering in dire circumstances. The rich man is not punished because of some act he did or failed to do; rather he is punished because the suffering of Abraham never even occurred to him as even a possibility. This man could only see all about himself and his fine life; he failed to recognize that he needed to take responsibility for his gifts and treasures and share them with others in need. He needed to look beyond his well-being to the well-being of other people because his wealth and comfort were not meant to be only about himself.

In our first reading and the Gospel, we learn that we are being invited by God to share our gifts. We cannot be complacent simply because we have enough and fail to see that others do not. Whatever we have in our lives from our work and effort, we must make sure to generously share this all with others.

The Catholic Church, along with the world-wide ecumenical community, annually celebrates the Season of Creation from September 1 to October 4 . Here's another video resource to help you put this year's Season of Creation in the context of care for the environment, as well as in its Christian context. The US Bishops, in collaboration with Catholic Relief Services (CRS), have developed a series of videos on Catholic Social Teaching. You can view the one on Care for God's Creation at <https://bit.ly/CSTCreation>.

1st Grand Annual collection is October 1st & 2nd. Our 1st Grand Annual Collection is coming soon. Every registered household will soon receive a Grand Annual Appeal letter and envelope in the mail. Despite the continued challenges of the Corona Virus Pandemic, the parishioners of Saint Mary's have generously supported our parish and courageously lived out the Gospel message in an uncertain world.

Our Sunday Eucharist is again flourishing, parishioners are active in ministry, and we look with hope to the future of our parish. Our finances, however, continue to be our greatest challenge. Our total operating income is still behind pre-Pandemic levels.

While we are making progress, our expenses are rising to meet the costs of staff positions and hours, necessary supplies and building maintenance and operation costs. Will you consider a special gift of $500 or more? Our goal this year is to encourage all parishioners to take a "step-increase" in their Grand Annual Gift. This year we are asking you to consider a special gift of $500 or more. This will allow us to reach our Grand Annual goal $150,000.

The Grand Annual Collection will be taken up three times this year as has been our tradition. The first collection will be held on the weekend of October 2nd followed by additional collections on the weekends of November 6th and December 4th. Please return the Grand Annual envelope dated October 1/2 indicating your total gift and first payment. You may place this envelope in the Sunday Collection or return it to the parish by mail. We truly appreciate any assistance you can give and are counting on the many, you are able, to support this appeal.
